PRESS RELEASE

New Chancery/Embassy for the Islamic Republic of The Gambia in Washington, D.C.

Washington, D.C., 22 July 2016, Embassy of The Gambia has opened its own standalone property

The Embassy of the Islamic Republic of The Gambia announces that it has secured approval from the United States Federal Government in conjunction with the local government entities to open its first standalone Chancery/Embassy in Washington, DC owned by the Government of the Islamic Republic of The Gambia.

For several years this has been the dream of the Embassy and the vision of His Excellency the President to purchase their own building that will serve the Gambians as well as the citizens of the U.S. and other countries. This significant moment is made possible due to the visionary and dynamic leadership of His Excellency Sheikh Professor Alhaji Dr. Yahya A.J.J. Jammeh Babili Mansa, President of the Islamic Republic of The Gambia.

The property is located at 5630 16th Street, NW, Washington, DC 20011; this building and its premises are the sovereign property of the Islamic Republic of The Gambia. The staff of the Embassy and all Gambians in the United States of America appreciate this milestone achievement.

The Embassy extends its heartfelt gratitude to the Honourable Minister of Foreign Affairs and the Honourable Minister of Finance and Economic Affairs for their support.
